THE CHALLENGE

THE CHALLENGE WE ADDRESS

Malaria and mosquito-borne illnesses remain a persistent threat in rural communities and wetland areas across malaria-prone regions. Families living near rivers, rice paddies, and seasonal wetlands face constant exposure, particularly during evening hours when mosquitoes are most active.

The challenge isn't just finding protection—it's finding reliable, safe, and affordable protection that fits daily life. Traditional methods like coils require fuel, sprays can be harsh on sensitive skin, and nets limit mobility. Families need solutions that work with their lifestyle, not against it.

Rural families need protection that is
RELIABLE. SAFE. AFFORDABLE.
Solutions that fit real lives. Every day.

KEY CHALLENGES FAMILIES FACE

CONSTANT EXPOSURE

Evening and night mosquito activity in high-risk areas.

TRADITIONAL METHODS FALL SHORT

Coils need fuel.
Sprays can irritate.
Nets restrict movement.

IMPACTS DAILY LIFE

Limits comfort, mobility, and peace of mind.

SAFETY MATTERS

Harsh chemicals can affect sensitive skin and children.

AFFORDABILITY IS CRUCIAL

Families need effective protection that fits their budget.

HOW IT WORKS

HOW THE PROTECTION WORKS

Nature-powered. Science-backed. Long-lasting protection.

PLANT-BASED ACTIVE INGREDIENT

Each patch contains Lemon Eucalyptus oil, a naturally derived repellent approved for use in malaria-prone areas.

The oil is released gradually through the patch's porous backing, creating an invisible protective zone around the wearer.

The scent is undetectable to humans but highly effective at repelling mosquitoes.

Unlike sprays that wear off quickly, the patch provides consistent protection for up to 24 hours—even in humid conditions near rivers and wetlands.
